SEPTEMBER 2026

Dear Praying Friends and Faithful Partners,

*“I’d rather have Jesus than anything this world affords today.” — Rhea F. Miller
(Matthew 16:24–26)*

This line kept echoing in my heart as I taught the children about Shadrach, Meshach, Abednego, and Daniel. Each of them purposed in their heart to honor God rather than bow to the pressures around them. The three young men refused to worship the golden image, even at the threat of the fiery furnace. Daniel continued praying to the One True God, though it meant being thrown into the lions’ den. In every test, God proved His power, His sufficiency, and His faithfulness. Their stories remind us that when we choose obedience over comfort, God is glorified. He shapes our character, strengthens our resolve, and uses our faithfulness as a testimony to others. My prayer is that each of us will purpose in our hearts to live for Jesus—daily taking up our cross, denying ourselves, and following Him with steadfast devotion.

GUAM. We thank God for the Collins family, who passed through Guam after a refreshing furlough in the United States. Their updates on Facebook and the YouTube videos Tommy prepared were a joy to follow, and the supporters they visited shared how blessed and encouraged they were by their time together. Just as the Collins were preparing to return to Yap, Pilot Mark Abbott informed us he was flying a charter to Guam. In God’s perfect timing, they were able to fly home with him—along with much-needed supplies. Moments like this remind us that the Lord arranges every detail with care. His timing is never late, never early—always exact. He provides for His servants in ways that strengthen faith and testify to His goodness. May we continue to trust the God who goes before us and meets every need with grace.

KILOGAN, PHILIPPINES: Pastor Jose Tayangona shares: Recently, I was asked to lead funeral services for two nights, continuing through the burial. During that time, someone approached me and asked why born-again Christians do not pray for the dead. I gently explained that God has given us His Word so we can understand the true way of salvation. We can know for certain where we will go when we die, and people’s prayers cannot bring someone to heaven. I then asked if I could visit him, and he agreed. From that simple conversation, the Lord opened the door. We now have a Bible study with them, and last Sunday he came to church. He told me he wants to continue learning the Word of God. This is a reminder that God is always at work, even in moments of grief. He turns questions into opportunities, and opportunities into transformed lives. All glory to Him!

BAHAY KALINGA ORPHANAGE, OR. MINDORO. PHILIPPINES. Last month, our OIC, Pastor Marty Lumigis visited PMA Bahay Kalinga to check on the children’s welfare, the progress of their cases, and the daily life of the Center. He reviewed the matching results of siblings presently cared for and reminded the team to seek clear guidance from NACC and DSWD. In meeting with the staff, he encouraged transparency, unity, and consistency in caring for the children. Pastor Marty reminded everyone that our work is important and sacred—that the children entrusted to us must be cared for with gentleness, wisdom, and accountability. This was a call for all of us to remember that this ministry is not only work but worship. Caring for vulnerable children is a way of honoring the Lord, who sees every act of patience, every moment of restraint, and every effort to love well. We pray that we will continue to serve with humble hearts, steady hands, and the grace that comes from the One who protects every child and strengthens every caregiver. By Richelle Venturina

PALAU. Wayne spent the month in Yap supporting flights while Amos was on furlough, then returned to Palau in time for the Islander's 100-hour inspection. We were also able to conduct a nighttime Medevac from Angaur and continue praying for runway lights to be installed for future emergencies. The Cessna 206 fuel system repairs brought challenges, but God provided the wisdom and strength needed to resolve them. We praise God for adding Austin Joseph to the team and for the future help Jun and Maverick will bring as they continue their A&P online training. God's provision and perfect timing remain evident in every step of the ministry. ~ Rolly de Liña Jr.

YAP, MICRONESIA. It's that time of the year again for our FAA Part 135 IFR pilots to complete their recurrent training and proficiency checks. Over the past two years we have been working towards aligning our expiration dates to be within one month of each other so that we can take our plane to Guam once and do all the check rides for all three of our pilots in one go. Today, Brock and I will take the King Air to Guam and complete our training and check rides. Both of us are Check Airmen, so we will train and check each other. Then I will return commercially to Yap, to cover the flights, while Mark Abbott flies commercially for Brock to train him and give him his check ride. Then Brock will return next week and all three of our Part 135 pilots will be current for the next 6 months. In the last two weeks, we have also had a lot of maintenance in Yap. We changed all the landing gear on N468SP and we also just completed a Phase 2 inspection on N875SP (Both King Airs). Looking forward to crossing all these major hurdles. Looking forward to crossing all these major hurdles. By: Amos Collins

POHNPEI, MICRONESIA. On the first Sunday of the month, our PMF church gathers in the evening for Communion service. I have been discipling 3 young men in their 30's. Each week when we meet they are showing growth in Christ and in God's Word. I have assigned them to give messages throughout the year for the Communion service. It gives me great joy to see their enthusiasm for teaching the Word of God with passion and humility. "Encourage the young men to be self-controlled. In everything set them an example by doing what is good. In your teaching show integrity, seriousness and soundness of speech that cannot be condemned." Titus 2:6-8 ~Nob Kalau

It is with great assurance that we can continue to trust the Lord and serve Him with all our mind, soul, strength and heart - knowing He is our Great Watchman who sees all, knows all, perceives our thoughts, does not slumber nor sleep and whose plan is to prosper us, not to harm us - even when the road seems dark as we go through trials, challenges, and temptations. I pray that for each one of us - we will indeed be strong in our resolve to live for Him. Thank you for your faithfulness in prayer and support! You encourage us with your partnership. God bless you!

In Him we live and move and have our being,

Ma. Melinda R. Espinosa, CFO/Administrator
